CONTENTS

GE.99-

I.  INTRODUCTION

A.  Scope

1.      This document contains the revised programme of work of the UNFCCC secretariat for the biennium 2000-2001.  It supersedes the draft programme of work submitted to the Subsidiary Body for Implementation at its tenth session (SBI 10) in document UNFCCC/SBI/1999/4/Add.1. The revised programme of work reflects the programme budget for the biennium recommended by SBI 10 for adoption by the fifth session of the Conference of the Parties (COP 5), as well as guidance on programme content derived from the discussion on the programme budget initially proposed by the Executive Secretary.  It represents the secretariat's best estimates of its work over the next two years and will be adjusted in response to decisions and guidance, including on resource implications, emanating from the Conference of the Parties and its subsidiary bodies.

2.      The work programme notes, but does not incorporate, two outstanding contingencies relating to work on matters related to consideration of communications from non-Annex I Parties and on the provision of conference services should these not be available from the regular budget of the United Nations.

3.      The annexes to the description of programme activities show the distribution of approved core staff through the programme structure (annex I) and compare budget data for the biennium 2000-2001 with those for the current biennium (annex II).

4.      A table summarizing estimated resource requirements for activities that could be carried out with supplementary funding is included as annex III.  Further information concerning the components of the table can be provided to SBI 11, if requested.  The activities actually carried out will respond to demands and priorities.  Detailed descriptions would be made available in due time to Parties that express interest in such activities and in providing supplementary funding for them.  At this time, it is important to emphasize that the recommended core budget for 2000-2001 does not include provision for the funding of workshops that have been or may be requested by Convention bodies.  All such workshops would require supplementary funding.[1]

B.  Explanation of revisions

5.      The recommended programme budget provides for programme expenditures (excluding overheads and working capital reserve) of US$ 11,043,100 and US$ 11,256,900 in 2000 and 2001 respectively (excluding the two above-mentioned contingencies) and a staffing table of 78.75 posts in 2000 and 81 posts in 2001.  Compared with the resource levels proposed by the Executive Secretary to SBI 10, these agreed levels represent reductions of some US$ 2,909,000 (21 per cent) in programme expenditures for 2000 and US$ 2,786,900 (20 per cent) in those for 2001.  The agreed staffing table provides for 19 fewer posts in each year.  Corresponding

[1]    Each programme has been allocated approximately US$ 35,000 to support expert groups, which may be used to support the participation of non-Annex I Party representatives in workshops.

revisions have therefore been made in the programme of work of the secretariat, particularly in relation to planned outputs and results.  Some adjustments have also been made in the programme structure in order to maintain balance and coherence in the secretariat's work.

1. Structure

6.      As regards structure, the proposed programme on "emerging issues" has been broadened and renamed the "Planning, Coordination and Emerging Issues (PCEI)" programme.  It contains two substantially scaled-down subprogrammes undertaking work on cooperative mechanisms and emissions trading; the first of these subprogrammes will give priority to work on the pilot phase of activities implemented jointly and preparatory work on the clean development mechanism.  In addition, the Management and Coordination subprogramme of PCEI will take on responsibility for analysis of new and cross-cutting issues and for ensuring the coherence of the substantive work of the secretariat in preparing for the first session of the Conference of the Parties serving as the meeting of the Parties to the Kyoto Protocol.  It will in this way support the Executive Secretary in strategic planning and in overseeing the implementation by the secretariat of decision 8/CP.4.[2]

7.      The programme currently labelled Resources, Planning and Coordination (RPC) has been renamed the Conference Affairs and Resource Management (CARM) programme in order to reflect better the programme's breadth of responsibilities, including those relating to the financial management and administration of the secretariat.[3]

8.      The arrangement whereby a programme coordinator is designated as Deputy Executive Secretary has been retained.  This does not have budgetary implications but strengthens the capacity of the Executive Direction and Management programme.

2. Content

9.      The revised work programme maintains the previous provisions for work on transfer of technology, as well as for the launch of new work on Article 4.8 and 4.9 of the Convention and on compliance procedures.  It also maintains a coordinated approach to work by different subprogrammes on the quality, analysis, management and dissemination of inventory data.

10.      As a result of the approved levels of resources for programme activities, expectations for outputs in certain areas have been scaled down.  These include scientific outreach and liaison with the IPCC (in S&T), as well as substantive liaison with the Global Environment Facility

[3]    In the presentation of the revised programme budget at the conclusion of SBI 10, the title "Intergovernmental and Conference Support" programme had been used.

(GEF) (in IMP). The Outreach subprogramme of the Information and Outreach programme has been reduced to one professional post; thus the aim of an enhanced cooperative relationship with other United Nations bodies, convention secretariats and non-governmental organizations will be fulfilled only if supplementary funding is available. Supplementary funding will also be needed for work on the dissemination of information and the preparation of information products related to the Kyoto Protocol mechanisms. Planned activities related to the facilitation and coordination of capacity-building activities in this and other areas have been pared down to a minimum.

11.     Work on trade and environment will not be pursued, though the Implementation Process subprogramme will hold a watching brief on this subject. The preparation of the report on implementation will be dependent on supplementary fund-raising.

12.     As in the past, work on the development and dissemination of information products and the strengthening of the communication capacity of national focal points will not be funded through the core budget.

3.  Presentation

13.     The information on programme activities is presented using a standard template, an explanation of which is provided in the table below. The document is organized into sections and subsections corresponding to the programmes and subprogrammes of the secretariat. An explanation of the abbreviations used in the document is contained in annex IV.
